Getting a degree can mean living away from home long-term for the first time, and you or your child might also learn to manage a roommate, laundry and more. If you want to make sure things start on the right foot, consider getting these 30 items, a new college student doesn't live without them. Unless you've been lucky with a single dorm room, you'll have a roommate, which makes a pair of noise-cancelling headphones essential. These Mijiaer Active Noise Cancellation Headphones offer superior sound quality and a comfortable and adjustable fit at a fraction of the usual cost. The lightweight design makes them ideal for carrying around the campus and features a built-in microphone for hands-free calling. A full charge lasts for almost 40 hours (a microUSB charger is included) and only decreases up to 20 hours in active noise cancellation mode. Cushioned headphones and a 90-degree swivel design ensure a perfect fit every time. The dormitory rooms are, by design, tasteless and boring business that feel nothing like home. This colorful and oversized tapestry of ArfBear's Cactus is a great way to turn things on and make a concrete, the cookie room feels more personal. While drilling holes in dormitory surfaces are generally not a good idea, this item can still be easily attached to a wall using a sturdy adhesive or wall hook. Measuring a generous 60 by 78 inches, the tapestry is made of a lightweight political material, machine washable and can also be used as a blanket, bed cover or beach cover. The possibilities are endless. After a stressful day of class, there's nothing like curling up in bed with a cozy blanket and binging on Netflix. This Srilee reversible Sherpa has Sherpa Super-Soft material on one side and velvety micro-cashmere on the other. You will reach new levels of intimacy at any time of the day. The light plush material is machine washable and has not won the fade, pill or shed on clothes and sheets. Its oversized design measures 50 by 60 inches and can double as a duvet cover or bed cover. And don't worry about allergies or other irritants - it's hypoallergenic, so you can rest easily. College is often a rude awakening for teenagers when it comes to laundry. Fortunately, this online pop-up laundry basket makes it easy to shop and carry laundry, and thanks to its space-saving pop-up design, it has not won valuable real estate in small dorms. The cape measures 24.5 by 14.5 by 14.5 by 14.5 inches, It's big enough to handle a week of clothes and towels. The practice pocket on the side is perfect for storing detergents, softener and other essential laundry elements. Shoulder length carrying straps help navigate with stairs and lifts with ease. The days of long showers are finished in private bathrooms á
